- have negotiated one supervisor who is available and willing to facilitate the student's requirements
- confirm (prior to application) that their chosen project can be conducted within the appropriate concentration area - that is, check the availability of resources, supervision etc
- submit a proposal outlining the nature of the Research Project they wish to undertake
- applicants are required to present a current folio of their most outstanding work.

Language requirements

English language requirements apply to International applicants and other applicants whose previous study was undertaken in a language other than English. The minimum English language requirements for such applicants for entry to these programs are described below.

Credit and recognition of prior learning

Griffith University awards credit for prior learning which may relate to prior formal learning or prior informal and non-formal learning. For more information see below.

What is the application process?
How to apply

To apply, add this program to your shortlist at the top of this page or apply for this program now (a maximum of three preferences is allowed).

Griffith will assess your first preference and will only assess subsequent preferences if you are not successful.

Once you have submitted your application, you will be sent an email about how to track your application.

For a full list of your incomplete or submitted applications, please view your application list.

Note: Applicants should discuss their proposed Honours Project with a GFS staff member before making an application to an Honours program at the Griffith Film School (GFS) and check the GFS Undergraduate Honours Admission Guide for further information.
