Degree requirements: Students who started Trimester 2 - 2024

The following document describes the general conditions of this award:

- Higher Degree Research policy

The Doctor of Philosophy is a time-based Higher Degree Research program requiring a minimum of two years and a maximum of four years full time study or a minimum of 3 years and a maximum of eight years part-time study. To be eligible for the award of Doctor of Philosophy, a student must complete a research project and submit a thesis of no longer than 100,000 words for assessment by two external examiners of international standing.

Progress review requirements

Completion of progress reporting requirements is a condition of continued candidature for higher degree research programs. The following progress review requirements must be completed for the Doctor of Philosophy program:

- completion of the Early Candidature Milestone within 6 months (equivalent full-time) of commencement.
- completion of the Confirmation of Candidature Milestone within 1 year of commencement for full time candidates or within 1.5 years of commencement for part-time candidates.
- completion of the Thesis and Candidature Review Milestone within 2.5 to 2.75 years (equivalent full-time) of commencement.

Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) Level and Type

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) is the national policy for regulated qualifications in Australian education and training. This qualification is accredited as an AQF Level 10 - Doctoral Degree.

Course list: Students starting Trimester 2 - 2024

Course offering information in program structures is a guide only. Please check the actual offering information in the Course Catalogue.

Academic plans

Each student will be assigned to two academic plans throughout their candidature:

- one plan designating the academic element (i.e. School, Department or Research Centre) in which the research is being conducted, and
- the other plan designating the discipline area (i.e. field of education) to which the research project is classified.

Throughout their candidature, students maintain a current enrolment by enrolling each semester/trimester in the research course which relates to their academic load of full-time or part-time (see below). Students in this program are automatically enrolled in a course each semester/trimester.
